17-21 October

Venice - Italy

2011

European
Air and Space
Conference

Announcement

CEAS 2011 will be the third CEAS (Council of European Aerospace Societies) European Air&Space Conference following the very successful hosting of CEAS 2009 by RAeS in Manchester during October 2009.

CEAS 2011 will be a unique opportunity for aerospace industries, academia, organizations and associations to communicate, share and debate innovative concepts and technical solutions in the aerospace domain.

CEAS 2011 will promote the establishment of knowledge and technical networks with the aim of increasing European competitiveness in the field of aerospace.

Participation from all major nations involved in aerospace across the world, a wide exhibition area, special sessions on selected topics and specific actions to facilitate students attendance will make CEAS 2011 one of the major European aerospace events in 2011.

The AIDAA (Italian Association of Aeronautics and Astronautics) will be hosting CEAS 2011 on behalf of the CEAS community. Founded in 1920, the AIDAA is a society devoted to the promotion and dissemination of aerospace knowledge and expertise in Italy.

Call for Papers will be opened on September 1st 2010.
